

My response image is supposed to symbolize not only the physical but also the emotional distance between Diane and her parents after the deportation. In the picture there are two different piers that are not connected. On the right pier is Diane. This should illustrate her being alone in the United States without her parents. On the left side, Diane's parents are standing on the pier. However, they are not standing together because they decided to choose different paths after they were deported to Columbia. The ocean is between the two piers. This symbolizes that something lays between the relationship of Diane and her parents.
